Education Philosophy

I feel that education should be taught to the children in a way that they can retain and hold onto and learn from the information in the best way possible. If they can not get anything from what they learn it will be very hard to better their education. When they learn from what they are taught it will help them to make sure all of the information is correct. In my opinion the school should not be based on religious beliefs but more based on modern learning and teaching. The curriculum i feel that should be used is one that the teacher feels works best for her kids and for her, if the curriculum is not working well then no one will get anything out of what they are learning. The methods of teaching i feel need to vary by each student, some students don't need as much attention as others might in the class and every child learns at their own pace. There could be one student in the class who is exceeding all the requirements and then one of the students in the same class who has no clue what is going on. That does not mean that that one student isn't just as good as the other one, that student just needs a little more help. The purpose of a good education is to better our youth. I have had experience with being treated differently because i have never been good at math and i always struggle and the teachers always make me feel bad because i dont know what i am doing.
